

RDL Ideal sit-stand works environment

The ideal sit-stand works environment, a unique Sit-Stand work environment is created by combining HÅG Capisco saddle chair with RDL Professional electrically height adjustable desks

No other work chair is so well adapted to height adjustable worktables. HÅG Capisco combined with our sit-stand furniture inspires you to change your working position regularly - without even thinking about it

In this way blood circulation is stimulated and you feel better, both mentally and physically - and you can concentrate on the work you are doing

The next working position is the best:

RDL Professional electrically height adjustable desks encourage you to change your working posture, research indicates that it is healthier to stand for around 20% of the day

At the push of a button RDL Professional adjusts to suit your next work height. Cost effective, width adjustable, optional height ranges and extendable. RDL Professional brings electrically height adjustable work surfaces to the workplace at a very affordable level.

The human body is not designed for sitting still - this is why HÅG is different and provides the best sitting solutions by bringing variation and movement to the workplace.
